

Literal: verses 1 Peter 3:12-18

For the lords eyes look down on the righteous and his ears are towards their prayers. But the face of the lord is against them that do evil.

And who is he who will injure you if you are zealous of that which is good?

But and if you experience pain on account of righteousness sake, blessed are you. But do not be afraid of their fear, neither be stirred up or agitated.

Give him his rightful place—Christ as lord in your hearts—ready always for an answer of defense to every man that begs an account from you concerning the hope that is in you with mildness and awe.

Having a good conscience in that they speak evil, they may be ashamed that make false, defamatory statements about your good conversation in Christ.

For it is better, if the will of God be so, that you experience pain from well doing than for sinning.

For Christ also once died concerning sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in flesh but made alive in spirit.
